Lori's Gifts Response to EEOC Lawsuit

Plano, TX (APRIL 24, 2026) – Lori's denies the allegations in the EEOC lawsuit and remains firmly committed to maintaining a discrimination-free workplace. We are an equal opportunity employer and are dedicated to ensuring individuals of all backgrounds, including people with disabilities, have meaningful opportunities to work at Lori's.

Our vision is to be a trusted place for joy and support when people need it most, and that commitment extends not only to the patients, families, caregivers, and hospital partners we serve, but also to our highly valued team members. We take our responsibilities as a workplace and as a partner very seriously.

The matter involved aspects of a third-party applicant tracking system that was implemented several years ago, and this minor online procedural issue was corrected immediately when we were notified. We have since taken further steps to enhance our hiring processes and oversight to ensure full alignment with our values and regulatory requirements.
